

Paid Internship in Forestry and Wildlife—2019

through the FOREST STEWARDS GUILD

The Forest Stewards Guild welcomes applications from students or recent graduates in forestry or natural resources for a paid internship. You will perform supervised forest and wildlife habitat management with the United States Fish and Wildlife Service. The 26-week position is a supervised work and learning experience based at the Carolina Sandhills National Wildlife Refuge, McBee, South Carolina. Additional work will occur at the Pee Dee NWR near Wadesboro, NC. Anticipated start date: February 18, 2019.

Jump-start your forestry career and influence natural resource management! Learn valuable skills working with a motivated team of forestry professionals at the Forest Stewards Guild and the US Fish and Wildlife Service.

The Forest Stewards Guild is a professional organization of forest stewards and natural resource professionals. Guild interns perform forestry tasks alongside US Fish and Wildlife Service staff, based on the season:

- ◆ Forest inventories, including GPS and GIS technology and the integrated application of forest management software.
- ◆ Collecting ecological and timber-related forest metrics to develop timber-harvest prescriptions, including volumetric measures required for harvest accountability.
- ◆ Timber marking, harvest planning, monitoring and evaluation, and other tasks as assigned.
- ◆ Inter-program experience with biological and prescribed-fire programs.

This excellent opportunity to learn how forestry and wildlife management work together on our public lands is a great entry point into careers in forest management and species conservation.

Interns are provided no-cost, on-site housing at the refuge, a $250 travel allowance, and a weekly stipend of $290.

Position Qualifications: The Forest Stewards Guild seeks students or recent graduates with some experience in forestry and wildlife ecology and a strong desire to learn new skills.

Application Deadline: Please submit a one-page cover letter expressing your interest in the position, a current resume, and three references to Mike Lynch at mike.lynch@forestguild.org by January 6, 2019. Questions may also be directed there.

As a condition of employment, employees are required to sign a drug-free workplace agreement. The Forest Stewards Guild is an equal opportunity employer.
